Computer based testing, typing is a challenge for kids. Upcoming, Stay Sharp Reading Program with the Adirondack kids book, requested by Tom Trowbridge. Authors are amazing, donated an entire set of the series to the library, donated posters, and they plan on coming for a presentation. They gave us 400 books for 2500 dollars, very excited! Kids have to find pictures Majerus puts up related to chapters like a scavenger hunt.

Next month, 4th and 5th chorus and band concerts, k-3 concerts, and kindergarten screening.

Teacher Report: Presented by Lacey Phillips

A lot of mini grants are being put in, Michelle Jones put in for one but the form didn't show up. Jodi Gould as well.

Field trips, 4th, k & 1st are setting them up. All places have gone up in prices so we will be allowed a greater amount due to the spend down. Teachers asked for additional requests, Rich Murphy asked for sleds again. Rachael has sent an email to all teachers about the school needs and we are getting a lot of teacher feedback with things they may need for the school. If the teachers can provide information on what they want, we can purchase the items for the school. Erin Weller's company will come and measure and give a quote for the library furniture.

One teacher asked if she could get the additional things on her mini grant, we collectively decided that if she could use someone else's mini grant then it would be fine. Teachers are looking for flexible seating for classrooms, organization carts, etc..
